Important note

The conformal coating of our tactile switches must be tested in the final application. Coating that enters the tactile switch does not harden directly, so that any resulting malfunction can only be detected later.

If the tactile switch is completely coated, the coating may peel off the elastomer of the tactile switch during the first few actuations. Press the tactile switch only after the coating has hardened.

We recommend leaving out the elastomer area when coating to prevent detachment.

General remark

The suitability and use of the recommended media for potting, conformal coating and nano-coating must be qualified and approved in the final application.

The potting, conformal coating and nano-coating must be used in accordance with the manufacturer's technical data sheet.

Actuation of the tactile switch only after the potting compound, conformal coating and nano coating has complete hardened.

Other potting compounds and processes for printed circuit board protection on request.
